BOMBING ROCKS ELBA HIGH

Two dynamite charges were set off at about 10:30 last Thursday night in the east wing of the Elba High School shortly after the Coffee County Hog Producers had completed their annual meeting in the school dining room. There were 8 to 10 sticks of dynamite used, according to Army demolition expert, Lt. Robert Gruber, from Fort Rucker. The wall nearest the explosion was knocked out by one of the two charges which were placed about 30 feet apart on the floor of the hall. The explosion damaged five rooms, including the library, science lab, and three classrooms, but only two were completely useless at this time. The opinion of the many investigators on the scene is that the fuse was lit at about 10:17 and exploded between 10:26 and 10:30. The last known person to leave the building was the school principal, Lamar Foley, who turned off the steam and walked up the other wing at 10:00. The police had just checked the drink machines in the breezeway between the damaged wing and the lunchroom when the explosion occurred. They were enroute to Mulberry Heights School when the first charge exploded. The national news media expressed concern over the racial strife in Elba, Alabama, but the general opinion of the citizens of Elba, both white and Negro, is that this is far from the truth since there is absolutely no friction between the races in Elba. The school was integrated last September without a quiver and both races continued to work together for the improvement of Elba. The case is being investigated by city, county, and state officials, the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the office of the District Attorney. They are all earning the respect and confidence of the citizens of Elba with their long hours of hard work and complete cooperation with each other. Investigators have stated that the dynamite used was the same type that was found in an abandoned house north of town several days ago. This was 36 sticks of dynamite tied in two bundles of 18 sticks each with caps and fuses already inserted. Also near the dynamite were two gallons of gasoline. The reward for information in the case has exceeded $3500 at press time with the city offering $1000 and the state offering another $1000 and the Chamber of Commerce members and other interested citizens offering between $1500 and $2000. The local National Guard assigned men to patrol the school grounds to keep the many sightseers from accidentally damaging possible clues or hurting themselves. The guardsmen also patrolled the Mulberry Heights School and the Courthouse after several telephone threats were received saying various places including the Courthouse, Country Club, and private homes would "be next". These threats are customary following an incident of this kind and many are just pranksters breaking the law just for the thrill of pretending they caused all the excitement, but, alas—they are unknown so they receive no credit except in their own narrow mind. The damage to the building has been estimated at from $20,000 by some to a high of $50,000 by others. Deputy Fire Marshall John Hooper said that the wall would have to be torn out completely due to the danger of collapsing later due to the stress of the explosion. Police Chief Bo Dunaway said Tuesday, "I appreciate the way the people of Elba acted during the recent crisis," and that "Their calmness and co-operation is a credit to the community."

V A Trying To Quite Rumors

Ira Allen of New Brockton was re-elected president of the Coffee County Hog Producer's Association at their recent annual meeting in Elba last Thursday night. Robert English was re-elected vice-president, and Rufus Wilson, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. The directors elected to serve for 1966 are: L. B. McCall, G. W. Bradley, S. O. Parker, Eugene Farris, Wildon Bryan, M. C. Wilkes, Ray Sanders, A. W. Wilson. Approximately 200 people attended the first annual meeting of the Association and enjoyed the barbecue dinner and program. The dinner meeting was sponsored by four feed mills in the county. They were as follows: Blair & Son Milling Co., New Brockton; Harrell Milling Co., Enterprise; Sparlin & Sons Milling Co., Elba; and Whigham Milling Co., Enterprise.

Heart Fund Road Block Set

The local National Guard will hold a Heart Fund road block Saturday, March 5th, according to Maxwell Reeves, who is in charge of the 1966 Heart Fund Drive on the west side of Coffee County. "This drive is for funds to be used in combating heart disease and the co-operation of everyone is needed," said Reeves. As a result of these erroneous reports the Veterans Administration has received nearly $25,000 absolutely useless inquiries. All inquiries which are received must be answered, but it is the hope of the Veterans Administration that the inquiries will cease as it is causing a delay in handling other urgent matters for veterans.

By LUCILE K. WOODHAM McRAE

RICHMOND FLOWERS said when he qualified as a candidate for governor that "four state needs a different type of leadership" and I don't think he could easily do without him for a few years. He said "we must move from the attitude of dependence to one of reason and progress." Guess he thinks going all over the country telling all kinds of tales about the poor, ignorant people of Alabama and making all kinds of excuses about Alabama is "reason and progress." Alabama can do without that type of character, also. Richmond Flowers has done Alabama more damage than all the inter-tribalists and segregationists put together. Richmond Flowers is all we need to completely destroy Alabama. Another dose of Richmond Flowers in a top position in Alabama is asking too much. However I don't think we need too much worrying about it. He has been closer to the Governor's chair the past four years than he will be the next four, is my prediction.

AND THEN this governor's race picked up another candidate when State Senator Bob Gilchrist of Marietta qualified for the race Monday, becoming the 11th aspirant for the nomination in the Democratic primary. There is one thing I agree with Gilchrist about. Hitting Richmond Flowers he said, "I do not approve of any public official going over these United States critiquing and ridiculing the people of Alabama." I can't see Gilchrist getting any further than the gate - post, but, even so, I'm glad to see him in the race. What better way for a person to learn just how popular he isn't.

RICHMOND FLOWERS, apparently thinks he will be the run-off with a blue Negro vote. I don't believe the Negro voters will vote as a bloc before the first primary for several reasons. If they are smart they will not show their hand in the first primary by voting in a bloc which would be the death of that candidate in the run-off.

THE WAY things look right now the run-off in the governor's race could easily be between Bill Lurien and Patterson. If election was today, the Republicans would likely be elected to most of the top positions. It looks like it might be a Republican sweep, come fall.

TOM JOHNSON, writer of The Birmingham News said Sunday in reference to Mrs. Wallace when she spoke those words "I will be a candidate for governor of Alabama" that she took two minutes followed by George who spoke to. And he continued that as establishing the pattern of the campaign - she will make a little speech and he will say five times as much. He continued with "Wallace has a powerful presence and stir strong emotions. When Jim Folsom was governor and entered a room, all eyes turned in his direction. Everyone was acutely conscious of his presence because of his size, personality and reputation. It's the same with Wallace. He has the effect on a crowd of a man entering the room with a cocked pistol. He stir wrath and admirations. If only as a zoological specimen, he is interesting. Wallace should consent to be pickled after his death." Johnson said "As for me, I was never so vital as today. Let us all salute them during the forthcoming week."

NEXT WEEK is Girl Scout Week being observed this year during the March 6-12 period. Since the birthday of Girl Scouts on March 12, 1916, in Savannah, Georgia, the movement has spread across the nation. Girl Scouts "built character" and have been never so vital as today. Let us all salute them during the forthcoming week.

I WAS AMONG the 200 who was in the Elba school house just a short time before someone else was butchering a hog? He reported one person, who was Wallace read her butchering lines last week with surprising poise, having a peculiar reaction. He took in the whole table, Mrs. Wallace, still recovering from her operation, reading lines prepared by friends of her husband, children watching as she obediently undertook the most uncharacteristic task of her life. And that his reaction was suddenly one of compassion for Mrs. Wallace, and he did not know whether this would make him vote for her or against her. But women are still smarting by her entrance in the campaign for governor. Women who have had similar operations to that of Mrs. Wallace don't believe she is physically able to be thrust into a political campaign as a candidate even as a stand-in for someone else. People will have to have time to accept this unique situation before they can accept it very well. At this time things are not going as well in the Wallace camp as they were. I think there is a possibility that she could be in the run-off. But have also heard the prediction that the Wallace team could be several notches from the top and Patterson being in the run-off with one of the other candidates, before the de-factored tragedy the opinion was that it would be a loss-off between him and Patterson. At this time it is not known just who of the other ten candidates might reach the run-off position.

AND there is a great possibility that before the first primary that so many issues will crop up that the entire picture will change. I'm sort of expecting just such to happen. It looks like a loss-off between him and Patterson, but Elliott and Flowers are going to be in as tough a vote-battle, and one of them just might master up to a run-off position, but then it could be Gilchrist though few

NON-MEDICAL PEOPLE CANNOT DIAGNOSE
To diagnose, or find out the cause of an ailment requires more than intelligence. A medical education plus observational experience is needed.

PAIN OR DISCOMFORT RELIEF IMPORTANT
Self-treatments only try to relieve the pain or discomfort. But, if such pains or discomforts keep returning, it is of greater importance to find out the cause. For pain is an urgent cry from your body that something is wrong and it needs help.

THEN YOU SHOULD CONSULT A PHYSICIAN
Otherwise, a possibly easily cured ailment can gain a foothold and become a serious disease. A physician will check your medical history, give your body an adequate physical examination and study your symptoms. It still in doubt about the cause of your trouble, or to positively confirm his diagnosis, he may give some laboratory tests or require X-rays.

PHYSICIANS TREAT THE CAUSE
Your physician can prescribe the best medicine to relieve the pain or discomfort. That is why you usually will save much sickness-time and possible future harm by quickly consulting a physician about any recurring body problem.

Red Cross Fund Drive Announced

The annual Red Cross fund drive is underway this month in Elba with Doug Martin and Sam Sawyer acting as co-chairmen.

The quota for Elba this year is $2600.00, according to Sawyer.

Mrs. Nadine Fuller has been named to head the collections in the residential sections and W. M. Patton, Jr. is in charge in Mulberry Heights.

The chairman ask that all citizens cooperate with the Red Cross workers as this is necessary if the many Red Cross Programs are to be continued. Among those supported are the Blood Program and help for a soldier when there is a necessity for him to return home for a few days or on a hardship discharge due to death or illness in his family.

Kathy King Returned To Local Hospital

The people in Elba who have been interested in Kathy King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. King, and her recent surgery will be happy to know that she has been transferred back to Elba General Hospital and is in Room #5 South and doing well.

The necessity of the operation was discovered about one year ago when Kathy was with a group of high school students who were x-rayed in a clinic conducted by the Alabama Department of Public Health. The main purpose of the x-ray was to locate those persons who have tuberculosis. Kathy is free of TB, of course, but the radiologist noticed an abnormal curve in her spinal column.
